LOST SHIP AMSTERDAM

Narrow Escape of Two Hundred and Sixty-Six Souls,

Whose Escape from a Watery Grave Was Solely Due to Calm Weather —The Inefficient Life Saving Service.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 8.—The Government steamer Newfield has returned from Sable's Island with the survivors of the steamer Amsterdam, which was wrecked twelve miles off the east end of the island Wednesday, July 30, during a dense fog. The steamer left Amsterdam July 19 for New York with a general cargo and 260 souls, 43 crew, 167 adults, and 33 children, third class, and 13 first-class passengers. Strong westerly winds and high seas were experienced during the passage, and the past few days a dense fog. The ship struck on a sandbank when running at full speed and stuck fast, breaking badly. The next morning the fog lifted, and her position was ascertained for the first time. All hands left for the island on the steamer's boats, but in landing, one boat capsized in the surf and a fireman and two-third class passengers, names unknown, were drowned. Their bodies were not recovered. The vessel now lies in nineteen feet of water with eight feet of water in the engine room. About 6,000 barrels of herring; a lot of rice in bags and other cargo was jettisoned in efforts to get her off. If the weather continues fine some of the cargo will be recovered but the vessel appears doomed.

The captain and three officers remained on the island to look after the ship. The passengers will be forwarded to their destination. They include a number of naturalized American citizens.

Rodbenstein, of Berlin, was one of the cabin passengers. He said to a correspondent:

"The ship experienced fog and rain during the entire voyage. The ship struck three times, but being in a sand bank, it was not generally known to the passengers for some minutes. Then a panic ensued, but the surf was comparatively smooth, and Captain Lucas succeeded in reassuring the passengers. Ten minutes after the ship struck all hands engaged in throwing the cargo overboard. The ship was thirteen miles out on the bar. Captain Lucas noted the surf was treacherous and landing dangerous, and as calm weather prevailed, although a heavy sea was beginning, the passengers were kept on board. But no assistance arriving and the vessel beginning to make water, it was decided to make an attempt to land the passengers at the light-house, thirteen miles distant. About 200 passengers were crowded into six boats. They were battling in the surf all night. The first boat succeeded in landing at the light-house at 3 o'clock. The others landed between 5 and 6 o'clock.

"One boat upset and two German passengers, one named Dix, and a fireman were drowned."

Mr. Ludwig spoke bitterly of the lack of facilities for saving life on the island. It was several hours after the ship struck, he said, when her rockets were seen at the light house, and then the keeper had no rockets or other apparatus to respond to the signals of distress. It took a messenger five hours to communicate the intelligence to the main station. The weather was remarkably calm. Had the ordinary heavy surf prevailed but few of the passengers could have been saved.

After the six boat loads left the ship the remaining passengers and the crew broke into and rifled the cabin. None of the liquor out was saved. Some provisions were got ashore, but were taken possession of by the people of the island, many of whom became drunk and riotous from the liquor. The captain behaved with courage and coolness.

Mr. Ludwig speaks highly of the Governor of the island, Mr. Galloway, and officials Desbray and Allen.

The following is a partial list of the cabin passengers: Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig, three children and a servant, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Oppiger; Rev. Mr. Carmanus, of Louisville, Kentucky; Mr. and Mrs. Fahrenwald, from Berlin to New York, and Mr. Ulder, of Curaco, West Indies.

Sable Island is 100 miles southeast of Nova Scotia. Many fatal shipwrecks have occurred upon the island. The Amsterdam is the third vessel lost by the company, the others having been the Ems, sunk at sea by a collision with the Lequnio, and the Rotterdam, which was run ashore in broad daylight by the captain in the harbor of Amsterdam a year ago.

In making Sable Island she was fully 300 miles out of her course.

AMATEUR OARSMEN

Making Extensive Preparations for the Coming Regatta.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 8.—Great interest is being taken here in preparations for the return of the United States Association of Amateur Oarsmen at Watkins, New York, next week, and the fleet of 15 oarsmen, 5 coxswains and crews are training here for the different events. The Argonaut four-oared crew of Toronto go down this week to Watkins, and have been rowing for a month past to get in trim for the race. Joseph Laing, of Montreal, who headed the amateur championship race in the United States Association last year, and who is looked upon in Canada as about as invincible an amateur oarsman as Hanlan is a professional, is also training here, and will cave for New York in a few days.

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Aug. 8.—An order published at Fort Leavenworth, sentencing First Lieutenant James O. Mackey, of the Third Cavalry, to be confined to the limits of the reservation of Fort Leavenworth for a period of eight months, and to forfeit $50 of his pay per month for this period. Lieutenant Mackey was found guilty by court-martial of visiting an officer's mess-room and beating George Henderson, the servant of Lieutenant Fuller, without provocation.

Did it with a Gun.

HELENA, Ark., Aug. 8.—Monday Dr. E. V. Moore quarreled with Warren J. Smizer and called him a liar. Smizer hit him over the head with a club, inflicting a serious wound. Moore procured a gun and shot Smizer twice in the abdomen. Smizer has died.

A MINING FRAUD EXPOSED.

An Ex-Clergyman's Scheme by Means of Which Many Were Robbed.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Aug. 8.—Another wildcat scheme and barefaced swindle has just come to light here, in which two worthies named Dr. F. W. Kroenke, of Buena Vista, and Watson Thrapp, of Topeka, Kan., were the king pins, advertising themselves as "The Clarence Town-Site Company and Colorado Mining and Land Exchange."

Clarence is advertised as a town laid out and rapidly growing, with concentrator saw mills and other improvements, and the whole place is represented as an "Eden of beauty."

As a matter of fact the place is only reached by a trail and is under twelve feet of snow six months in the year, with not a house for miles around.

The other branch of the company is even a worse swindle. They advertise the "Fanny Wyatt Mine" as the greatest ore producer in Colorado, while it is nothing but a prospect hole, not producing a dollar. The Peoples' Mining and Land Exchange, another swindling scheme, is long since defunct and to the holders of stock in the latter company the officers of the present company (both officers and directors are composed of the pair) write and tell them they have drawn a prize and to send on the stock and a $2 fee. That is the last the victim ever hears of his stock or money.

Most of the swindling operations were conducted throughout Kansas, Iowa, Missouri and Illinois, where an enormous quantity of stock has been sold to the laboring classes. Kroenke is superintendent of an Episcopal Sunday-school, and was formerly a Congregational minister at Wamego, Kansas. He is also a leader of the Good Templars, for whose benefit he recently got up the Good Templars' Mining Company, with $250,000 stock, another fraud.

HAMILTON COUNTY REPUBLICANS

Meet to Nominate County and Congressional Candidates.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 8.—The Republican County Convention to nominate candidates to be elected to local offices this fall and candidates for Congress in the First and Second Districts, met at Turner Hall, and was called together by Chairmain Cullen, of the County Committee. Miller Outcalt was made Temporary Chairman, who delivered himself of a speech. After the appointment of the various committees, the Convention took a recess. The Committee on Organization reported the selection of Lewis Sadler for Permanent Chairman and Emil Rehse for Secretary.

The Convention then adopted the following resolution:

RESOLVED, That the Republicans of Hamilton County do most heartily ratify and approve the principles as announced in the platform of the National Republican and State Conventions; and of the letters of acceptance of the National standard bearers, James G. Blaine and John A. Logan.

General Lewis E. Brown was nominated for Congress in the Second District, and Dr. Baumes for Elector.

Hon. Ben Butterworth was nominated for Congress in the Second District on the first ballot.

A MURDERER KILLED

By a Posse Who Were After a Liberal Reward.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 8.—J. A. Pettit shot and killed his wife, July 16, and fled with a neighbor's horse. The Governor offered a liberal reward for his apprehension, and a posse went in pursuit. The leader of the posse has applied for the reward, saying that they had come up with Pettit in Alabama, between Birmingham and Decatur. He resisted arrest, and attempted to escape. He was fired upon by one of the party and killed. The Governor declined to pay the reward, as it was offered for the live body and not the dead one.

FELLEN'S FATE.

He Reached in a Hole For a Cat and Was Bitten by a Rattlesnake.

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 8.—Andrew Fellen, a brakeman, thrust his hand into a hole to get a kitten he supposed was there. When he drew his hand out a rattlesnake was attached to it. The reptile released its hold only after Fellen had given it a vigorous lashing. Fellen's hand became discolored and swollen. The symptoms of poisoning soon extended to his arm and produced a swelling that caused intense suffering. Fellen was plied with stimulants. A change for the better was noted in his condition last night.

INHUMAN GREASERS.

Government Opposers Shot Down Like Dogs in the Street.

SIERRE MADRE MOUNTAINS, Aug. 8.—The Mexican soldiers in Nueva Leon are murdering every citizen who is opposed to the administration of Governor Tolentino. Over sixty persons have been shot by his order. In the district of Aquas Callentas, Felix Villamieva was murdered by the soldiers and his body cut to pieces, and his head split in two. Tolentino's civil officers witnessed the outrage.

The Pooling Issues.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Charles Francis Adams Jr., John C. Gault and Hugh Riddle, arbitrators for the Eastern Trunk Line freight pool, met at the Grand Pacific Hotel in secret session, to consider the subject of dead freight per contago. The meeting of railroad managers concerning the Western pool, also resumed at the same time, but nothing has been accomplished and the situation is reported unfavorable in consequence of the want of unanimity.

Total Abstinence Convention.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—The members of the Catholic Total Abstinence Convention assembled at the Cathedral of Holy Name, when solemn requiem mass was celebrated for the repose of the souls of deceased members of the Union. The Convention reassembled at 10 o'clock, and the presentation of the district reports was resumed.

WHY, AIN'T THAT FUNNY

Said a Young Lady, When Told Her Sister Was Shot.

The Terrible Result of Losing an Umbrella—Driven from Home, a Pretty Young Girl is Shot for a Burglar.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Pretty Louise Hallman lies dying at the Ninety-ninth Street Hospital, having been shot by Mr. John W. Funk, who mistook her for a burglar. Mr. Funk lives with his wife and two children in a cozy little cottage at 224 East One Hundred and Eleventh street. He is collector for George Ehret, the brewer, and besides being in well-to-do circumstances, was accustomed sometimes to have large sums of money in the house. The half hundred petty robberies occurring during the past few months alarmed Mr. Funk, and some weeks ago he bought a large revolver. Since then he has slept with it under his pillow. He sleeps on the ground floor of the house in the back parlor. The folding doors are left open, and the front windows are in plain view of the bed. He retired early Tuesday night, but was awakened about 2:30 o'clock by Mrs. Funk, who declared that there was a burglar on the front veranda.

Mr. Funk raised himself on his elbow, reached for his revolver and awaited developments. In a moment the slats of the shutter moved, and the outlines of a human head came into view. The eyes were peering into the room. Taking a rapid aim at the figure Mr. Funk pulled the trigger, and, cocking the revolver again, leaped from the bed and ran to the front door. No one was in sight, and Mr. Funk returned to his couch satisfied that he had prevented a burglary.

Twenty minutes later Patrolman Boyle, of the Twelfth Precinct, found a young woman lying in the gutter, half a block from Funk's house. He raised her head and found that her hair was damp and clotted with blood. The pavement where she lay was also stained. Calling for help the officer took the girl to the station-house, where she rallied sufficiently to say that she was nineteen years old and was Louisia Haltzman.

Then she fell into a stupor and was taken to the Ninety-ninth Street Hospital. The bullet had passed into her left temple and yesterday she lay in a comatose condition unable to say a word. Last night she was momentarily expected to die.

Mr. Funk told his story of the shooting and was locked up to await the result of her injuries. Louisa did not know who had shot her.

On the top floor of the tenement, 303 East One Hundred and Eleventh street, the mother of the dying girl was wringing her hands and laid the troubles to a silk umbrella. "It was all because of that horrid umbrella," she explained. "My Louisa worked for Mrs. Conradt Schmidt at 1791 Third avenue, and was generally a good girl. Last week it rained and Mrs. Schmidt lent the girl a fine silk umbrella worth three dollars to go home with. Louisa met some bad girls and after they had been together for some time she missed the three dollar umbrella and found a fifty cent one in its place. Mrs. Schmidt would not take this, and demanded her own. Then Louisa asked me for $3 to buy another umbrella. I could not spare the money, and she said she could not go back to work until the loss was made good. My husband got angry and swore that if Louisa would not work she should not enter the house. So when the poor girl came back last night he would not let her in. Then she went off to sleep somewhere else. She wandered into Mr. Funk's porch, and while asleep he shot her. She did not often stay out very late at night."

While the mother was speaking an older daughter entered the room. She had just returned from the police old lady in tragic tones told her that her sister Louisa had been shot and was dying.

"My gracious! Why, ain't that funny!" said the girl, as she removed her hat.

Louisa was known in Harlem as "Frenchy," but she was not regarded as disreputable.

HUMAN GARLANDS

Woven in Wreaths of Blood and Tied with the Death Knot.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Aug. 8.—James C. Gaylord, the professor of music who has frequently exhibited homicidal and suicidal tendencies, made a successful attempt on his life Wednesday by sending a bullet through his skull. About nine years ago the community was startled by the announcement that Garland had nearly killed his wife and then himself, and that both were dying. He had quarreled with his wife, and in his rage he seized a hatchet and hacked her fearfully. When she became unconscious from the shock and loss of blood, Garland, believing that she was dead, rained terrible blows with the hatchet upon himself until he had no more strength to wield the bloody weapon. By dint of careful nursing both rallied and ultimately recovered. He was tried for assault with intent to kill, and being convicted, was sentenced to five years' hard labor at Trenton. When he was released, three years ago, and returned here his wife, in the meantime had decided never to live with him again, and for a long time Garland was morose and despondent. Wednesday he made another appeal to his wife to forget the past and acknowledge him as her husband, but she refused to have anything to do with him, and he ended all his earthly troubles by blowing out his brains.

FROM ALBANY.

Butler's Determination to Run the Topic of Conversation.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 8.—The announcement that Governor Cleveland would start on a vacation drew a large number of visitors to the Capitol. The Governor was engaged most of the morning shaking hands with friends who came to wish him a pleasant time. Among the prominent callers were Arthur Jenkins, Syracuse, and Carter Harrison, Mayor of Chicago. Mayor Harrison was asked if his interviews with Governor Cleveland and Daniel Manning had been satisfactory, he replied: "Oh, yes, moderately so." This was all he would say. He leaves for New York at once. General Butler's determination to run on the Greenback Anti-Monopoly ticket is the topic of discussion here.

PREPARING FOR WAR.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—A despatch from Canton states that the military preparations on an extensive scale are being rapidly pushed forward. The city is anticipating a breaking out of hostilities between France and China. Various forts on the heights and islands in the river are being strengthened, while more cannon are being mounted on the wall surrounding the city. A large number of engineers are engaged in planting torpedoes in the river, and chains with torpedoes attached being stretched across the river. These chains are sunk to the bottom of the river, and so arranged that on appearance of hostile boats, they can be drawn up near the surface of the water, impeding a passage without exploding the torpedoes.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 8.—The failure of a small cotton firm is reported in the Cotton Exchange this morning.

Rumors of a Riot.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 8.—Twenty men employed at the Grant smelter to bear off the slag with wheelbarrows, Tuesday afternoon demanded that the amount of work per diem be lessened, and were at once discharged by the foreman. The matter gave rise to a sensational rumor which is denied by Governor Grant, that the day shift armed themselves and refused to let the night force go to work that a riot between about 200 was threatened and that the entire militia was ordered to be ready for action. This information was given by one of the staff officers, but it is denied at the Executive office to all inquiring newspaper reporters.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 8.—The National Civil Service Reform Association held a public meeting at Channing Memorial Church. Hon. THE DAILY BULLETIN.

FRIDAY EVE., AUGUST 8, 1884.

A GREENBACK State Convention will be held at Boston, September 4.

THE Democratic headquarters in New York have been opened for work.

LOUIS WORTHINGTON, John L. Stettinand James Y. Rodgers, prominent Republicans of Cincinnati, will not vote for Blaine.

HON. J. H. MURPHY, of Iowa, a prominent member of the present Congress, says that the Germans of that State are solid for Cleveland and Hendricks.

A DISPATCH received this morning by Judge Lytle, of Carlisle from Mr. Apperson of Mt. Sterling says that the new county of Knott has given Riddle over 800 majority.

THE people are rapidly "sitting down" upon commercial politicians, Democratic as well as Republican. The sooner corrupt practices, and those who are parties to such transactions, are discarded the better for the country.

MR. CLEVELAND'S letter of acceptance will be completed, it is expected, and made public this week. He has given no intimations of what it will contain, but has said that his meeting with Mr. Hendricks was altogether pleasant in both parties and that they are in perfect accord on the questons of the day.

"FALCON," in a recent letter from Lexington, thus touches up the late shippers of negro voters from Maysville to that city: The moral of which is that sometimes it is a mistake to try to hog all the persimmons, and that one should be careful that while he is dividing up another man's cheese the rats don't eat a hole in his own. It may not be the last time that in grasping after the Irish vote the Republicans may lose the Germans and a large slice of the colored vote. A prominent white Republican to-day remarked with much disgust, "The d—d niggers went back on us." Allow me to say that if my Republican friends bring colored voters here from other counties and kindly pay their fare on the train and furnish them with convenient residences from which to register their votes, they mustn't get mad and call them "d—d niggers," because some of them get confused on names and vote for the wrong men. If the Republican party chooses to introduce an ignorant and venal element into our politics it must grin and bear it, even when hoist by its own petard; let it take the medicine graciously, for it is of its own compounding, and we bought it at the Republican shop. There are many colored men who vote the Democratic ticket from choice and on principle; if there are others for sale the Republicans need not complain because we use them sometimes when they are through with them.

A TERRIBLE BATTLE.

Four Desperadoes Meet and Fight Out an Old Battle.

PREDONIA, Tex., Aug. 8.—A fierce combat occurred ten miles north of this village between four desperate characters who happened to meet near the line between San Saba and Mason Counties. Samuel Faulkner and Henry Allen attacked two Woodall brothers, opening fire at short range, with repeating rifles. The Woodalls, dismounting, returned the fire from behind their horses. Eight shots were fired rapidly by each side. Allen fell about the fifth round, pierced through the heart. One of the Woodalls received a bullet in the shoulder near the neck, disabling him. The remaining Woodall brother and Faulkner then approached each other with bowie knives, and a fearful duel followed, each being skilled wielders of the weapons. The wounded Woodall lying near by bleeding to death kept urging his brother on in the deadly conflict. Faulkner, however, after a few sharp struggles, seized Woodall's left wrist, and gave him a quick jerk which brought him to his knees. As the latter fell Faulkner plunged his knife into him, just below the heart. No sooner had Faulkner triumphed over his enemy, than he turned to look after Allen, his dead companion. As he did so he received a bullet in the breast from the pistol of the sider Woodall, who witnessed the duel while lying with his neck and shoulder split open by a rifle wound. Faulkner may recover, but both the Woodalls are dying.

Mr. Burner who tried to prevent the hostilities at their opening, received several flesh wounds in the arm. Burner and two other men witnessed the battle from the beginning, but dared not interfere.

Both the Woodalls soon became unconscious from loss of blood. Faulkner told one of the spectators that the fight was the result of an old feud in Arkansas, where all had once been friends. He said he knew it was death when they met, and he was glad it was over. Allen had nearly $1,000 on his person. It is believed each party was on its way to attend a camp-meeting now in progress at this place.

VACATING.

The President and Party Enjoying the Mountain Air.

HOTEL KAATERSKILL, N. Y., Aug. 8.—The President breakfasted privately at 10 o'clock Wednesday, from which time until 2 p. m. personal correspondence occupied his attention. The President's daughter, Nellie, and niece, Miss McElroy, with General Sharpe were up with the larks, meandering about the mountains. Throughout the day visitors from a neighboring boarding house swarmed to the hotel to catch a glimpse of the President who kept to himself until 3 o'clock, when he took a short drive, returning at 5 o'clock.

Mr. George Harding tendered a banquet to the President at 6:30 o'clock in a private parlor, an elaborate menu being served, with covers for twelve. The party were the President, Chief Justice and Mrs. M. R. Waite, Wm. H. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. George Harding, Miss Bella Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Brower, Mrs. Wm. G. Melliken, General Geo. H. Sharpe, and Mrs. Dr. Johnson. A grand pyrotechnic display was tendered in the evening, the Presidential party and guests occupying the piazza. The President will remain here during the remainder of his vacation.

CYCLONE

Sweeps Over Eastern Oregon and Does Some Wrecking.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 8.—The town of Wasco, in eastern Oregon has just been visited by a heavy and destructive cyclone. The storm came from the southeast. The wind was accompanied by a perfect deluge, but the rain-storm lasted only a few minutes. The new Methodist church and a large mill were both prostrated. A number of other buildings were unroofed and otherwise damaged.

A prominent citizen, A. M. Barnett, was fatally injured by getting caught under a falling building. The damage cannot be estimated, but it will be very heavy.

The saw mill, planing mill and lumber yard of Sexton & Ladd, at Tacoma City, Washington Territory, were destroyed by fire. The loss will reach $40,000; insurance less than $5,000.

SAMPSON'S RAGE.

Cole's Monster Elephant Paints a Town Red in Idaho.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Aug. 8.—Cole's huge elephant, Sampson, severed his chains at Hailey, Idaho, Monday evening, and started to pulverize his keeper, who made a hasty retreat. A cage of lions stood in the way of the infuriated animal, which he picked up and hurled to one side, killing two horses. He then struck a pile of lumber and scattered it to the four winds. By this time there was a genuine furore over the attempt of the elephant to paint the town red, and the circus people called on the citizens to shoot him over and a lively firing began, but without at appreciable effect. Finally a party of men succeeded in roping the beast, and he was quieted. Thirty bullet holes were found in his hide. The damage done by him amounted to $10,000.

THIS IS THE FOURTH,

The Other Three Having Been Wrecked While in Service.

BATH, Me., Aug. 8.—The missionary steamer Morning Star was launched at noon. The dimensions are: Length 131 feet; breadth 25 feet 9 inches; depth 13 feet. Appropriate services took place, conducted by Rev. O. W. Tolson, and consisted of prayer by Rev. Dr. Robbins, of Iowa; an address by Rev. Alpheus Harvey, of Boston; hymns from "Greenland's Icy Mountains" and the "Morning Light is Breaking" and benediction. The steamer is owned by the American Board for Foreign Missions. Much of the money was contributed by Sunday-school subscriptions.

Seduces and Runs Away with a Young School Girl.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 8.—Charles Rouse, alias Travers, a confidence man who figured in a walking match here some time ago, enticed away from her home Mary Robinson, a young school girl, and took her to Philadelphia. He also obtained, under false pretense, several hundred dollars from other parties, which he took with him. The pair were arrested in Philadelphia and brought here. The girl says Rouse married her. The police have just discovered that he is from Waynesville, Ohio, where he has a wife and two children, whom he deserted some time since.

Soldiers in the West.

OMAHA, Aug. 8.—The second day of the soldiers' reunion at Fawnee City there were over ten thousand people on the grounds. A sham battle was the event of the day.

Speaker Carlisle and Senator Blackburn will take part in the campaign in West Virginia.

Dr. A. G. Browning was summoned to Flemingsburg, this morning, by a telegram announcing the serious illness of Allen Cole, oldest son of Judge A. E. Cole.

Mr. A. R. Burgess in an advertisement elsewhere offers a line of dress goods and other articles at sensational prices. Buyers will do well to call early before the stock is picked over.

Wills' World Worm Candy is sold by all druggists. It is the best remedy in use, and may, in all cases, be safely used, as it contains only such drugs as a physician would prescribe.

Rev. A. N. Gilbert will preach at the Christian Church in Washington on next Sunday afternoon at 3:30, if it is not storming at 2:30. Friends seeing this will please circulate the appointment.

Attention is called to an advertisement elsewhere of money lost. The finder will receive a reward of $50 by returning it to this office. The money was lost on the 6th inst. between Owens & McIlvainey's hardware store and Pecor & Co's., drug store.

Joseph Heiser Post will give a grand moonlight fete to continue one week, beginning next Thursday, in the grounds of Mr. C. C. Dobyns, in East Maysville. The entertainment is for the benefit of the Grand Army of the Republic. Everybody is cordially invited.

Convention.

The Mason County Sunday School Convention assembled in the Christian Church at ten o'clock this morning. There will be a session this afternoon at two, and also one this evening at eight, when the convention will be addressed by Rev. A. N. Gilbert. The afternoon will be devoted to short speeches and discussions by prominent Sunday School workers.

We are told our information that Galbraith will not contest the election of Dan Perrine is incorrect. Mr. Galbraith, we are informed, has decided to do so. He claims that he had a majority of the votes cast outside of the precincts where the sheriff and his deputies live and that Perrine and his aids were at the polls all day. He says their great personal beauty and magnetism were perfectly irresistible and exercised an undue influence over voters. Mr. Galbraith's grounds are considered amply sufficient.

PERSONALS.

Mr. John L. Case, of Texas, is visiting his relatives in Maysville.

Misses Lettie Owens and Nannie Conrad have returned home after a pleasant visit to friends in the country.

Mr. J. M. Mitchell has returned from Esculapia Springs improved in health. He reports a great many guests at the springs, and the accommodations all that could be desired. Mr. Mitchell made the drive from Esculapia to this city in three and one-half hours.

Suicide.

Miss Dorothea Gordon, a young lady living in the family of Dr. A. M. Wallingford, near Mt. Carmel, was missed on Monday, and a thorough search of the neighborhood failed to reveal her whereabouts, until Thursday evening, when she was found dead in the woods, about two and a half miles from the town. The body of Miss Gordon, when found, was lying upon the ground beneath a tree with a rope about the neck, made from a part of her dress. A piece of the rope was fastened to the tree, indicating that it had broken after the act was committed. Miss Gordon had been in good spirits before her disappearance from home, and no cause seems to be known that could have prompted the act.

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

Mr Cochran, of Ripley, is in town to-day.

Captain Robert Nelson has returned home.

Mrs. Davidson, we regret to say, is very ill.

Mr. Robert Clark is quite ill with malaria fever.

Mr. T. K. Stableton and sister will visit friends here the first of the week.

Quite a crowd of our people will attend the camp meeting, at Park's Hill, Sunday.

The hotel under the able management of Carr & Rist, is now one of the best in the State. Traveling men will do well to give them a call. ANON.

Camp Meetings.

Ruggles Camp, August 6, 1884.

The early prayer meeting was conducted by Rev. C. J. Howes. Overcoats were in demand and a cool fire in a grate would have been acceptable.

At 9 a. m. Rev. Thomas G. Bosley conducted an experience meeting. Many spoke fervently of their joy in the Savior. Quite a good congregation was present.

The sermon at 10:30 a. m. was preached by Rev. Josiah Fitch, P. E., of the Maysville district of the M. E. Church, South, founded on John 6: 68, "Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life." The sermon was very clear, forcible and comforting. The power of the gospel to solve the mystery of man's existence and satisfy his longings for a blissful immortality was made plain in contrast with any source of help. The Lord's supper was administered by Rev. C. J. Howes after the sermon, other ministers assisting. It was a very profitable season. In all one hundred and eight partook of the sacrament, Presbyterians, members of both Methodist churches and of the Christian Church mingled together in love and tears at the foot of the cross of a common Savior.

In the afternoon at 1:30 there was a full meeting of the Tollesboro Quarterly Conference, at which much important business was transacted.

Rev. W. F Maithy, of Sardis, preached at 3 p. m., from Mark 3: 1 and 5. The theme was the healing of the man with the withered hand. Mrs. Vonholtz followed with an exhortation and an altar exercise of much interest and profit. The choir is giving us, with the organ, excellent songs and music. The people don't seem to get tired of it. They linger after the regular service as long as the choir can be prevailed on to sing.

Rev. G. M. Clark, of Mt. Olivet, came this evening and Miss Vonholtz returned. There was intense earnestness in connection with the evening service, it was immediately preceded by a young people's meeting in the ladies' tent, and a prayer meeting in the tabernacle of great power. By 8 p. m. there were about five hundred people in the audience. Rev. John R. Eads preached to them from Hebrews, 12th chapter, 17th verse. The discourse was on the danger of losing the opportunity of salvation and was an effort of great power and deeply felt by the hearers, seven or eight came to the altar and two were blest.

This has been another good day. Rev. Howes, the President of the meeting has not preached since the meeting began, but he is doing his whole duty earnestly and wisely. By all so far in every way this camp meeting is a grand success. To-morrow, temperance day, we look for large congregations, we would be glad for all the county to be here. Rev. A. Boreing returned to-night.

Parks' Hill, August 7, 1884.

The 9 o'clock morning service was conducted by Dr. G. S. Savage, of Covington, Ky. The day was bright and lovely as a May morning, and the crowd was large and attentive, the order has never been better, the police force understand the situation and no one seems to be disposed to misbehave.

To-day at 11 a. m, Dr. Deems, pastor of the Church of the Strangers, New York City, preached. Probable eight hundred people heard this great divine. The text was Exodus 33: 18. "And he (Moses) said, I beseech thee, shew me thy glory." The speaker said: This is a prayer of an old man for himself. It is the universal cry of every true human heart. Real prayer is the prayer which a man can't keep from praying. This is true with real love. What does this prayer mean? It does not mean God's person. God is a person but his personality does not consist in bodily parts. Your personality does not consist in your body but in your soul. This prayer teaches us to ask for a clearer knowledge of God's perfections—his real personality. The text teaches that there are greater glories in God's personality than have been revealed to his servants. Moses had seen many of God's glories. Had seen the burning bush, the miracles in Egypt, the dividing of the red sea, &c. Still he wants more. We have seen more than Moses saw. We have seen more of nature. The microscope and telescope show us more. We are in the infancy of invention. We have seen more in Providence, science and theology. We live in grandest times, yet there are still greater glories. Only God can give us the knowledge of them. The things of God are spiritually discerned. Men talk against religion who do not know. Brother, be patient with them, but let them not be dogmatic. No artist can successfully paint the picture of a woman unless he be in love with her. Your anatomy of the body will not reveal the life. An exhibition of power doesn't say God's glory opines in the face of Jesus. It is the glory of love that is willing to suffer to save men and women. All things go to Jesus; why should we pray this prayer? First, it humbles us. There is a world-wide difference between humility and humiliation. I suffer no one to humiliate me. The most graceful figure is the figure of humility. Angels are most graceful when bowed at the throne of God. John and Isaiah were humbled by the glory of God. We become sanctified as God reveals his glory to us. Second, it enlarges us to see God's glory. Against sectarianism and bigotry let me ever lift up my voice. I believe that every church has some beautiful truth. When all the churches see the glory of God they will melt into one. If we do not pray this prayer we need pray nothing. A sermon is worth nothing to us if it does not help us see more of the glory of God. So with the sacraments. I suppose that in heaven this will be our just and constant prayer. Jesus is the glory of Heaven. Moses prayed this prayer doubtless after he left Horeb and went to heaven. See Moses on the Mount of Transfiguration with Elijah and Jesus. God's glory manifested. Have you ever seen the glory of God shining in the face of Jesus?

At half-past two p. m. Rev. H. C. Henderson preached from Romans 8 and 18. "I reckon that the offerings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed to us." The text recognizes the fact of suffering in the world. Said the speaker: "We do not need theories but sympathy and love. What is so universal as suffering must be a benefit."

ADJACENT COUNTIES.

VANCEBURG, LEWIS COUNTY.

Henry Sprinkle a native of this county fifty years old, residing on Salt Lick, was arrested for stealing money and gave bond for his appearance at the Circuit Court. He returned to his family yesterday and was so much depressed he killed himself with a pistol. Sprinkle was a married man leaving a large family. He was buried to-day.

The large Republican majority in Lewis County can be accounted for by stating the fact that Democrats would not approve or accept the bargain and sale conceived by the Radicals and doubtful Democrats, and did not vote a straight ticket, indeed, many did not vote at all. But the astounding fact was exposed in the Quincy precinct, where a Federal officer dealt out the money for votes. The judges asked some voters if they were paid to vote, and they acknowledged after being sworn, that they received two dollars to vote for Holt and Parker, and told who gave them the money. The judges of this precinct ordered the name of these paid voters to be erased. The man with the money has given notice make himself scarce, he went and has not put in an appearance. Look around Maysville, you will see him.

The Smallest Man.

One of the smallest men in the United States lives at Cedar Key. His name is Abecham Livingston Sawyer. He is twenty-two years old, forty and one-half inches high, weighs thirty-nine pounds, and the captain he came over with from Key West says he can eat more than any two men in the State. The midget was born and reared in Key West. He is built in perfect proportion, is very bright, and can make an eloquent speech and has a clear, high voice, which sounds like a child's. He was at one time a reporter on the Key West Democrat. At present he is clerking in a grocery store. He has a sister that is just a quarter of an inch taller than he is, and is just seventeen years old.

Tobacco for holera.

The weed is getting recognition at last. A London authority says to the people, in case cholera comes upon them: "Put your trust in Providence, encourage the smoking of tobacco (during the cholera outbreak of 1832 not a single London tobacconist died of the malady)." It has also been noted in America that cholera has never succeeded in doubling up a cigarette-smoking dude.

The California climate is worse than the polar air. "Lieut. Schwatka fell over a rocking chair in San Francisco the other day and broke his arm, after exploring the Arctic regions without accident.

Instantly Relieved.

Mrs. ann Lacour, of New Orleans, La., writes: "I have a son who has been sick for two years: he has been attended by our leading physicians, but all to no purpose. This morning he had his usual spell of coughing, and was so greatly prostrated in consequence, that death seemed imminent. We had in the house a bottle of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, purchased by my husband, who noticed your advertisement. We administered it and he was instantly relieved."

The Queens of Society.

are among the staunchest advocates of beautifying Sozodont, which communicates to the teeth the glistening whiteness of snow, arrests their decay, renders spongy and ulcerated gums healthy, and breath made offensive by defective teeth as sweet as honey suckle. SOLDIERS OF THE SOUTH

Enthusiastic Reunion of the Ex-Confederates at Dallas, Texas.

A Letter from Jeff. Davis, Ex-President of the Southern Confederacy, Whose Age Precludes His Attendance.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 8.—Nearly twenty veteran organizations are represented at the ex-Confederate reunion. There are special headquarters for ex-Union soldiers, and the most fraternal relations are manifested by the survivors of both armies. Wednesday morning there were 5,000 persons in camp, and the city is now full of visitors. At the grounds in the afternoon and night the crowd was variously estimated at from 15,000 to 20,000.

Colonel C. S. Mitchell, President of the ex-Confederate Association, delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by Governor Ireland. Most strenuous efforts were made to secure the presence of Mr. Jefferson Davis, the society going so far as to place a special train and palace car at his disposal, but at this age, seventy-six years, his friends feared that the excitement of the meeting would prove fatal to him, and he was prevailed upon to stay away. He sent a letter in which he says:

"I send you my warmest congratulations of the hardy old settlers who, against desperate odds, won the battles of the war for Independence. Of the veterans who served in the war with Mexico how few wait on the verge of eternity. It was a rule among Romans to reward generals returning successful from foreign wars, but never to grant a triumph for a victory won in internecine strife. With us the rule has been reversed and the veterans of the war with Mexico have been the subjects of special discrimination. The history of Texas is full of heroic deeds, from the self-sacrificing band of the Alamo to the defense of Sabin Pass, which, for intrepidity and extraordinary success, must, I think, be admitted to have no parallel in ancient or modern warfare.

"Texas is boldly striding onward in the conquests of peace, and I cannot wish for her a brighter future than that, in agricultural, mining, manufacturing, educational, social and religious efforts she may gather wreaths of oak worthy to mingle with the fadeless laurel that decks her brow.

"Deprived of the happiness of meeting, probably for the last time, the old settlers and ex-Confederates in their reunion of reviving the friendly welcome and feeling, the warm grasp of their hands, I send by them my earnest prayer that 'every good and perfect gift' may be vouchsafed to them."

The name of Mr. Davis was enthusiastically cheered, and his absence produced deep regret, as many came long distances expecting to meet him.

DISHONEST PREACHER.

Not Only Steals the Church Funds, but Fights the Elders.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 8.—Sometime ago the large and flourishing African Methodist Church of this city procured a pastor from New York. The Rev. A. Titus' complexion was decidedly on the brunette order, and his deeds were remarkable. His first proceeding was to run the church into debt. He then proposed a camp-meeting as a means of raising the money. This succeeded so well that over $500 were raised. The Rev. Ananias believing that the Lord helped those who helped themselves, put the entire gross receipts down into his clerical pockets, and when the elders came to settle with him, proceeded to settle with the elders a la Sullivan. The church officials did not present him their other cheeks, because they thought he already had too liberal a supply of that feature, but they brought him up before the 'squire, where it was discovered that the D.D. had been in the habit of using all the church funds for the exclusive benefit of the preacher.

His trial will take place at an early day, when, if he isn't compelled to "fork over dat plunduh," it is hoped that he will, at least, learn to respect his elders.

A HEROIC GOVERNOR

Saves a Young Lady From Drowning at Long Branch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Governor Abbett, of New Jersey, was bathing at Long Branch a few days ago, when the graceful swimming of a young lady, who had ventured beyond the line of breakers, attracted the attention of the promenaders on the beach. Upon turning to come in, the young lady's strength was exhausted and she disappeared. She rose to the surface and struck out bravely, but again she sank. Governor Abbett swam to her side and placing his arm beneath the young lady, gracefully assisted her to shore. She thanked the Governor, laughed and cried hysterically and then fainted. After caring for her the Governor re-entered the water.

The Cattle Plague.

SANTA FE, N. M., Aug. 8.—Governor Sheldon received a dispatch from Silver City, signed by Reed Hutchinson, President of the Stock Association; W. L. Rynerson, Vice President of the Territorial Stock Association, and many other stock growers of Southern New Mexico, urging him to enforce the act to prevent the introduction of diseased cattle, as animals recently imported from Texas have alarmingly infected the herds. The Governor is expected to issue a proclamation putting the quarantine law in force.

Still at Large.

EASTON, Pa., Aug. 8.—Kessler and Green thieves who escaped from Belvedere jail last Thursday, and fled to the Lehigh mountain are still at large. An active search is being made for them by detectives. On Monday night they entered a hotel at Salisbury, drank at the bar and again fled to the mountain Each carried a loaded gun. Farmers are much alarmed at the presence of the desperadoes and are aiding the detectives in their pursuit.

Murderer at Large.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 8.—Search for Daniel Gould, the murderer of W. B. Carpenter who recently escaped from Wadesboro jail continues. Hundreds of men have searched the woods and swamps, among the scarcities being Congressman R. T. Bennett, of the Sixth District. Gould is a desperate negro and will resist to the death.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Aug. 8.—John Brinton proprietor of the Arlington House, shot his brother-in-law, Michael Maloney, a saloon keeper, Tuesday. Maloney may die. Neither of them is disposed to talk, but the presumption is it was on account of the separation of Brinton and his wife. Brinton is in jail.
